PHORCED PHORACING

Successful Raids by General Scissors.There have been heavy inroads on the United States public domain of late, but the Government still owns nearly a billion acres—966,- 116,383, to be exact. Of this however, 369,529,600 acres are in Alaska, and not likely to be ever brought into use, certainly not for many years to come, leaving 576,- 587,783 available in the other States and Territories.The per capita of money in the United States, according to the statistics of the Director of Misint, $25.17. The debt, less the sinking fund, is $12.12 per head. In Great Britain the per capita of money is $18.60 and a national debt $87.79.
These accounts vary from month to month and year to year, but the ratio continues about the same.The trials of a man collecting bills sometimes take an annoying turn. One of those pleasant gentlemen stepped into an office, and, seeing the debtor talking to a number of lady friends, waited till he had leisure. Whereupon the debtor turned to the collector with a very pleasant manner and said:
"I will loan you this much to-day.
Come again when you are hard up," and smiled one of those smiles that crack a looking-glass.The first mention of ice cream that is found in U. S. history appears to be in the account of the festivities following Washington's first inauguration as President in the city of New York in 1789. Among the ices used on that occasion was ice-cream, which is said to have been prepared, or at least suggested, by Dolly Adams, then the brightest star in social and diplomatic circles. The new confection made quite a sensation at that time, and probably helped to increase the popularity of Dolly Adams.Dr. Koeppen in his "Annals of Marine Hydrography and Meteorology," published by the Observatory of Hamburg, details the effects upon the waves of the sea of different sorts of oil, and comes to the conclusion that soap produces still far superior effects. He recommends the use of black soap dissolved in 1000 times its weight of water.An examination of the saliva of a large number of horses, dogs and cats has been made in Rome. In that of the horse, bacteria of the various kinds were found. These included three pathogenic species, one of which was almost invariably present, and might have been derived from grass and hay, as it exists in the soil. The saliva of the cat was very different in appearance, and from it was isolated a new bacillus, which is specially pathogenic to rabbits and guinea pigs. The dog's saliva contained the largest variety of bacteria, including among the pathogenic kinds that of boils and carbuncles.The much vexed and much disputed question of the loftiest mountain on the North American continent has at last been settled.
John Partridge, Secretary of the Geographical Society of the Pacific, has received a letter from the chief of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D.
C., stating that Mt. Orizaba, in Mexico, is the highest. The exact figures, as forwarded to Secretary Partridge, are: Mt. Orizaba, 18,314 feet; Mt. St. Elias, 18,015. "These figures," said Assistant Secretary Trenor, "are authentic."
